Whenever players have a called number on the card, they use daubers (pen-like ink stamper) to mark the number. Dauber is an important bingo tool for modern players and is very easy to use.

The Caller

The caller is responsible for announcing numbers to bingo players after picking them up from a basket. Since, a large number of patterns are available therefore pattern call might change in every game. So it is duty of the caller to notify pattern of game before the game starts.

The caller picks each ball (containing a number on it) from electrically operated blower machines. The number of balls in the blower are either 75 (for 75-ball bingo) or 90 (for 90-ball bingo) and are of same size, weight and shape.
